Preparation

Place one ball in your teapot (ideally clear glass for maximum visual effect), and add freshly boiled but not boiling water. Boiling water may scald the leaves and prevent them from releasing all their flavours and aromas.

Infuse until the ball is fully open, usually about 5 minutes. Watch the long leaves unfurl to reveal the hidden flower.

Note: Do not remove the leaves after infusing - contemplate life and enjoy a rare Chinese Tea Bloom. If you wish to have another cup of tea, simply pour more water on the leaves and infuse for another 1-3 minutes. Serve without milk
