

NEPAL FTGFOP1 MALOOM

Nepal FTGFOP1 Maloom black tea comes from a small estate on the “roof of the world” that covers approximately 200 hectares and its slopes range from 3500 to 5500 feet above sea level. The Maloom Estate produces outstanding teas but has a small total annual of around 40 tons. The first harvest begins from late February and continues to mid-April and follows the first light showers after winter making this is springtime tea so the young leaves produce a light tea. This Tea has the appearance of the best Sikkim tea with the exquisite taste and character of the finest Darjeeling tea.

Tasting Notes Nepal FTGFOP1 Maloom - The young leaves with their silver coloured tips brew a light golden bronzed coloured tea, with a delicate delightful flowery aroma that can be compared to the best Darjeeling. Drink with or without milk throughout the day but especially good for afternoon tea. A connoisseur’s delight.
