The idea

Enjoy while been good to others...

At Providence Organics we source our coffee directly from indigenous Arhuaco farmers that live in the northern coastal mountains of Colombia

We work with the Arhuaco farmers at the source and oversee the journey of our coffee from the plant to your cup

With every cup you drink you will be supporting the Arhuaco Indians to preserve their culture & way of life

We give part of our profits back to the Arhuaco community

All the coffee that we sell is:

- certified Fairtrade &
- certified organic by the Soil Association

Our product

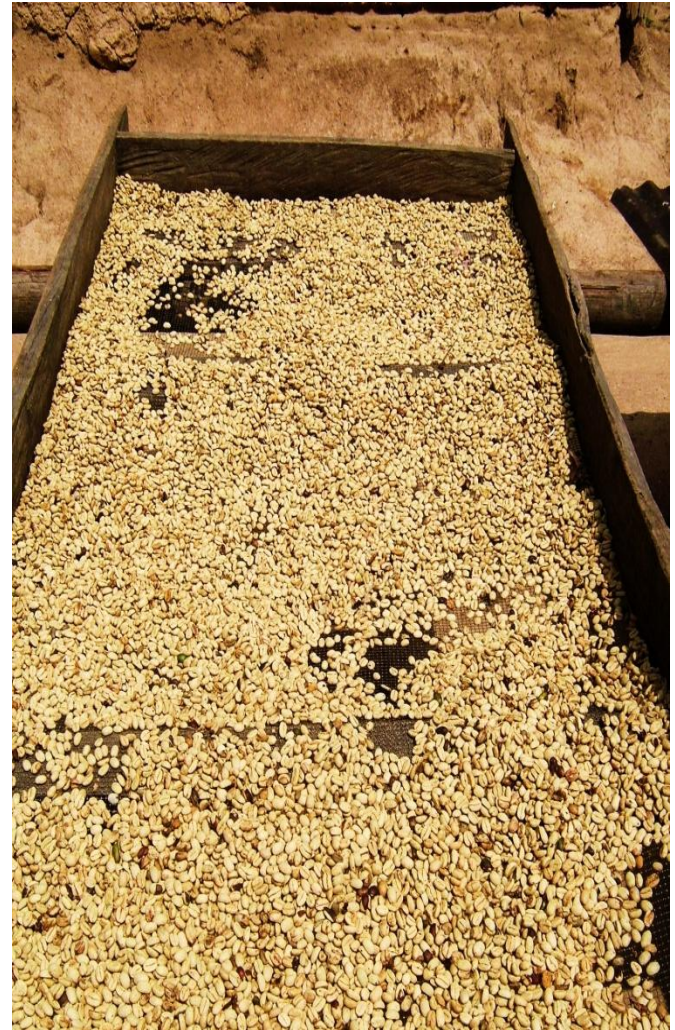

Be good to yourself

Our coffee is SINGLE ORIGIN (not a blend)

Taste ranges from caramel to hazel nut in darker roasts to delicate citrus in lighter roasts

To ensure CONSISTENT FLAVOUR & QUALITY we chose to source our coffee from a small number of farms in the areas of Jewrua, San Pablo & Pueblo Hundido at 1300 metres above sea level in Sierra Nevada

Sierra Nevada in northern Colombia is the world's highest coastal mountain range & it is considered among the world's MOST BIOLOGICALLY DIVERSE

Our product

Be good to others...

The coffee farming methods adopted by the Arhuaco indigenous aim to preserve the environment for FUTURE GENERATIONS so :

- ⊟ Land is not over farmed
- ⊟ At no point during the growing or processing of the coffee are artificial fertilizers or pesticides used
- ⊟ The coffee plants are shade grown under native trees within small farm holds

All the coffee is HAND PICKED & wet processed for better quality.

The farming practices carried out by the indigenous communities are IN HARMONY with their ancestral traditions & coffee is blessed by the spiritual leaders before the harvest.

As we have a direct relationship with the farmers we can guarantee:

- ⊟ that the farmers are getting the BEST DEAL for their coffee,
- ⊟ the single origin
- ⊟ consistent great flavour & quality

With the profit from the coffee harvest the indigenous fund other non-commercial crops that allow them to continue living a SUSTAINABLE way of life without having to leave their community
