James CHOCOLATES

Welcome to James Chocolates

I started James Chocolates in 1995 to indulge my great loves - good food, science and experimentation with all things deliciously indulgent. Fifteen years on we are still in the same Somerset village (in bigger premises though!) and remain true to our roots of simple handmade methods and good quality, proper ingredients to produce fine chocolates.

Our chocolates stand out as original, eye catching and delicious. We are known for innovation and are forever developing new flavour and decorative combinations to ensure the range remains fresh and exciting. Inspiration comes from everywhere, so if you have any product ideas or something you would like to see in the range then please do call me or the team.
